Morning Keynote Speaker: Lawrence D. Sloan, CAE, Chief Executive Officer American Industrial Hygiene Association (AIHA)

Topic: AIHA National: Pushing Boundaries, an overview of AIHA programs and services with a special focus on how the Association is addressing emerging trends, spanning a range of technical and business drivers. Discussion of the current MOU between AIHA and ASSP, and perspectives on enhanced collaboration that works towards increases recognition of the value of occupational health and safety professionals.

Bio: Lawrence “Larry” Sloan stepped into the role of CEO at the AIHA in October 2016. Prior to this, he served as President/CEO for seven years at the Society of Chemical Manufacturers and Affiliates (SOCMA), representing the interests of the US specialty chemical industry. Larry served as President of the Adhesive and Sealant Council from January 2005 to February 2010. Mr. Sloan joined the Council in 2001 as Director Member Services, and was promoted to Senior Director in 2004. Larry began his career as a chemical engineer at Air Products and later worked for Nalco Chemical Company in marketing, manufacturing and sales capacities. Larry graduated magna cum laude from the University of Pennsylvania with a BS in Chemical Engineering. Later he returned to Northwestern University where he earned his MBA. In 2006, Larry received his Certified Association Executive (CAE) designation through the American Society of Association Executives.